BIOGRAPHICAL MATERIAL

Appleton Farms, located in Hamilton and Ipswich Massachusetts, is the oldest continuously operating farm in America. Established in 1636 by Samuel Appleton, the farm is among the most influential in America's agricultural history. For nearly four centuries, the Appletons preserved their farm and maintained a successful agricultural operation supplemented with income from work as millers, hip merchants, industrialists, lawyers and tradesmen. The farm grew vegetables, hay and corn; the family also expanded production into beef, dairy and timber. By the end of the 19th Century it became a summer country estate that hosted fox hunts, steeple chases, and grass rides.

At the heart of the farm is the Old House, a home to generations of Appletons. From a brigadier general who served in the War of 1812 to a 19th-century entrepreneur, to a 20th-century Wall Street lawyer lived, these generations remained true to their family farm. Joan Egleston Appleton, the wife of the last descendent to live on the farm, deeded the property to The Trustees in 1998, the Appleton Family Papers were given to The Trustees at this time. The collection documents the evolution of New England agricultural economics, social history, law, military service, animal husbandry, farming practices, education, women's history, and more, as the Appletons were fastidiousness and somewhat obsessive in detailing every aspect of their personal and private lives.

Emigrant Samuel Appleton (1586-1670)

Emigrant Samuel Appleton founded Appleton Farms in 1638. Emigrant Samuel came to America with his wife and four children from Little Waldingfield, England, not far from Ipswich, England. They arrived in Ipswich, Massachusetts, in 1635. The emigrant Samuel received the original land grant for the property from the Town of Ipswich, recorded in December of 1638. Emigrant Samuel Appleton, is memorialized by a slate tablet on a boulder in the Great Pasture of the farm.

Major Samuel Appleton (1624-1696)

Major Samuel Appleton was the son of emigrant Samuel Appleton (1586-1670). Samuel came to America with his family from Little Waldingfield, England, in 1635. Major Samuel Appleton (1624-1696), received the farm upon the death of his father in 1670. Major Samuel and his brother, John, had distinguished military careers and were Deputies to the General Court. Major Samuel later commanded all the Colonial forces in King Phillip's War and led the Massachusetts troops in the "Great Swamp Fight" in December of 1675. Both he and Captain John were leaders in the "Andros resistance" of 1687.

Major Samuel Appleton married Hanna Paine (1628-1656) on April 2, 1651 and had three children, after her death he married Mary Oliver (1640-1698) on December 8, 1656, she was 16 at the time, and they had four more children. When Major Samuel Appleton died in 1696, he would convey the farm to his sons, John (1660-1724) and Isaac (1664-1747), in 1688.

Major Isaac Appleton (1664-1747)

Major Isaac Appleton was born and died in Ipswich, Massachusetts. He married Priscilla Baker in 1695; she was the granddaughter of Lieutenant-Governor Symonds. They had seven children including one named Isaac.

Isaac Appleton (1704-1794)

Isaac Appleton was born and died in Ipswich, Massachusetts. He married Elizabeth Sawyer (1709-1785), a daughter of a Wells, Maine merchant in 1730. They had ten children.

Samuel Appleton (1738-1819)

Samuel Appleton grew up on the farm; his parents were Isaac Appleton (1704-1794) and Elizabeth Sawyer (1709-1785). He married Mary White (1749-1834) of Nantucket. They remained on the farm and had 12 children. It is presumed that they built a house at the site of the "Old House" when Isaac died in 1794. Today, what is named "Mary White's Lane" is the path connecting the Waldingfield Road parking lot to the main farm driveway at Appleton Farms. At one time it served as entrance to the farm.

General James Appleton (1785-1862)

James Appleton was born in Ipswich in 1785 to Samuel Appleton (1738-1819) and his wife, Mary White (1749-1834). Although he would leave Ipswich to live in Gloucester and Marblehead, Massachusetts, as well as Portland, Maine, James returned to Ipswich to run Appleton Farms in 1857.

He was a Federalist and a Lieutenant Colonel for the Massachusetts Militia in the War of 1812. For these services, the Army later promoted him to the rank of Brigadier General. In 1824, he also served as the official escort to Lafayette when he visited Boston, the scene of the first stages of the American Revolution.

In 1813, at the age of 28, General James was elected to the Massachusetts legislature. A practicing lawyer and politician, he moved to Portland, Maine, in 1833 and was elected to the state's legislature, becoming a candidate for governor in 1836. He was known as a "conspicuous advocate" of anti-slavery and prohibition. In 1837, he submitted a report on the evils of liquor that became the basis of the Maine Temperance Law of 1846. His grandson, Francis R. Appleton, Sr., once wrote that General James was called "The Father of Prohibition."

In 1853, James' elder brother, Timothy Appleton (1778-1857), called upon James to help him manage the farm when their other brother, Samuel (1771-1852) died, General James bought out his father's surviving heirs in order to own Appleton Farms, and in 1857 returned to the farm. His brothers, Timothy and Samuel had been operating the farm.

General James continued to serve his country after his return to Ipswich, delivering patriotic speeches defending the Union during the Civil War in 1861. One such speech was an inspirational farewell given to the Ipswich regiment as it left for the front. A marker on Ipswich's North Green was given by the Woman's Relief Corps, named in honor of General James Appleton, in memory of the unknown soldiers and sailors of the Civil War, 1861-1865.

General James was married to Sarah Fuller Appleton (1787-1872). They had 10 children and 36 grandchildren, leaving a great legacy at the farm. Their son, Daniel Fuller Appleton would inherit the farm upon the General's death in 1862.

Sarah Fuller Appleton (1787-1872)

Sarah Fuller Appleton was the daughter of Rev. Daniel Fuller, pastor of the West Parish Church of Gloucester for 50 years. She was later the wife of General James Appleton, with whom she had ten children (three sons and seven daughters), three of whom became ministers or married clergymen. Their son, Daniel Fuller Appleton, named after her father, would become the next heir to the farm in 1862.

Nicholas Phillips Randall (1779-1836)

Nicholas Phillips Randall was the father of Julia Randall Appleton (1827-1886) first wife of Daniel Fuller Appleton. He was a lawyer in New York and leader of the Bar of Onondaga County. He was a descendant of Matthew Randall, Mayor of Bath, England, in 1627. Nicholas was married to Sybil Dyer Randall.

Daniel Fuller Appleton (1826-1904)

Daniel Fuller Appleton was a seventh-generation Appleton and his tenure would have one of the greatest impacts on the farm. Born in Marblehead, Massachusetts, in 1826 to General James and Sarah Fuller Appleton, his family soon moved to Portland, Maine, where his father was a successful legislator. In 1847, at the age of 21, Daniel Fuller Appleton set out for New York. Daniel worked for watch importer Royal E. Robbins, which later became the firm of Robbins & Appleton. In 1857, the firm bought the watch works at Waltham, Massachusetts, and for more than 50 years led America in manufacturing clocks and watches.

Daniel married Julia Randall, daughter of the Honorable Nicholas Phillips Randall, in 1853. They had five children: three sons and two daughters. He became active at the farm soon after his father took over in 1857. Upon the General's death in 1862, Daniel bought out his siblings and heirs to the farm. Daniel and his family lived on Staten Island and in Manhattan, New York, for most of the year. They summered at Appleton Farms and called it their home. His was the first generation to hold primary residences elsewhere and use farm managers to run the farm.

Julia Randall Appleton died in 1886. Daniel remarried to Susan Cowles (1848-1906) in 1890 at the age of 64. Miss Cowles' mother had for many years been the head of the Ipswich Female Seminary, founded in 1828 by Mary Lyons, and her father was the Rev. John P. Cowles.

Daniel left a great impact not only on the farm but also on the town of Ipswich, Massachusetts. In partnership with his brother-in-law, the Rev. John Cotton Smith, he helped organize the Episcopal parish of Ascension Memorial Church in Ipswich. He was a warden of the church from its founding until his death.

Daniel was one of the founders of the Union League Club, organized by patriotic men during the Civil War. Always active in politics, he was a delegate at the first Convention of the Republican Party in 1856 and prominent at the Philadelphia Convention where Theodore Roosevelt was nominated for President. He was also president of the New England Society of New York and of the New York Jewelers' Association.

The Old House became the center of Daniel Fuller Appleton's homestead at the farm. During the 1860s and 1870s, Daniel made substantial changes to the Old House and outbuildings. At the Old House, he added a long porch, replaced the 1794 central chimney with two smaller ones in the sitting and dining rooms, and added the west wing and library.

In addition to expanding and upgrading the house, Daniel expanded the farm by reacquiring land. The farm had been broken up in the early 1880s, and it was his desire to reassemble all of the land belonging to Samuel Appleton's original 1638 land grant. Between 1886-1890, Daniel was able to purchase a significant amount of acreage. Land acquisitions continued as neighboring farmers aged and their heirs were no longer interested in farming. Daniel's son, Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., would inherit the farm and continue to acquire land into the mid-20th Century.

Reacquiring the land from the original 1638 land grant would become Daniel's greatest legacy at Appleton Farms. He was also committed to making the farm profitable, while maintaining a successful career in New York. He realized this through the agricultural investments he made at the farm. He reclaimed acres of lowlands to extend the farming operations, and introduced new and innovative farming techniques.

As a result of his farming innovations, Daniel won awards from the Essex Agricultural Society. The Society's report of 1871 describes Daniel's agricultural impact on the farm, describing that his drainage efforts resulted in increased crops: 75 tons of English hay in 1871 versus six tons in 1866. At the time of his death, the English hay crop had increased to several hundred tons. Daniel also brought Appleton Farms distinction with its fine herd of Jersey cattle. As early as 1869, he had a flock of Cotswold sheep as well as Kerry and Jersey cattle, which later became part of his "Agawam herd," one of the earliest in American. Notably, his prize-winning cow, "Eurotisama" broke the world's record for butter production in 1890, churning out 945 pounds and 9 ounces of butter from April 1889 to April 1890. Later Eurotisama was exhibited at the 1893 World's Fair in Chicago.

Randolph Morgan (Budd) Appleton (1862-1940)

Randolph Morgan Appleton, also known as "Budd", was the second son of Daniel Fuller Appleton. Born on Staten Island in 1862, he grew up summering at the Old House in Ipswich and graduated from Harvard in 1884. In 1888, he married Helen K. Mixer (Apr 1864-1939) of Boston. She was the daughter of Charles Mixer (1811-1873) and Frances Curtis (1823-1873).

The couple had three daughters: Madeleine (1891-1981), Julia (1894-1983) and Sybil (1899-1973). In 1889, Budd and Helen bought the Waldingfield Road property that had once been the Samuel Appleton's (1624-1696) homestead. They enlarged their estate by incorporating the existing early house into a large new house, and called it "Waldingfield" after the English town of Little Waldingfield from which the Appletons descended. That house was destroyed by fire in 1916. A new house was later built by Randolph's daughter, Julia, and her husband, Charles Summer Bird (1885-1980).

Randolph Morgan Appleton played football at Harvard, introduced golf to the Myopia Hunt Club in Hamilton, MA, and served as Master of the Hounds at Myopia from 1883-1900. He wrote and published 'Posies and Poems: Penned, Prigged, Plagiarized and Put Together by Budd' as a Christmas present for his nephew, Francis Randall Appleton, Jr., in 1929. It included such tributes as "Ancestor Sam," written for the unveiling of the farm tablet in the Great Pasture, in memory of 17th-century emigrant Samuel Appleton, and "A Myopia Toast." Portraits of Randolph Morgan Appleton were painted by Sir Alfred Munnings (now owned by the Myopia Hunt Club) and by Catherine Priestly Richardson, now in the Appleton Farms Collection.

Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. (1854-1929)

Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. was the eldest son of Daniel Fuller Appleton and would be the next heir to Appleton Farms. Francis attended Phillips Academy and Harvard University. He practiced law in New York and married Fanny Lanier Appleton (1864-1958) in 1884. They had five children, including Francis R. Appleton, Jr., the last Appleton to live at the farm.

Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. was heavily involved in the running of the farm from a young age. While still a student at Harvard, he would take the train to Ipswich to oversee the farm. When Francis wanted to quit school to run the farm full time, his father Daniel discouraged him from doing so, understanding the need for him to earn his livelihood elsewhere in order to support the farm. Though legal title was transferred to Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. on his 21st birthday, he assumed official ownership in 1904 upon the death of his father, Daniel Fuller Appleton. Francis' first priority on the farm was to begin the repair and remodeling of all the farm buildings and their surrounding locations. By 1910, he retired from active business as a lawyer and devoted himself to advancing agriculture on the farm and to improving his estate, with an interest in increasing the value of the farm.

Landscape beautification also became a major focus for Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., capitalizing and showcasing the farm's scenic and pastoral beauty. In 1912, he conceived and built what is perhaps his greatest legacy at the farm—"The Grass Rides." Created for recreational horseback riding, the Grass Rides is a web-like series of trails that convene at Rond Point. That same year, Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., then the chairman of Harvard University's overseers, was given the architectural pinnacles from Harvard's Gore Hall, which was being torn down to make way for the new Widener Library. The pinnacles were transported to Ipswich from Cambridge and installed on the property. The Gore Hall pinnacles have served as memorials beginning in 1921, with dedications to various family members carved into triangular marble panels.

Like his father, Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., devoted a great deal of his time and energy to the farm, but he was also active in educational, civic and business affairs. He was an overseer of Harvard University, president of the Harvard Club in New York City, president of the New York Farmers, vice president of the Essex Agricultural Society, director of the Cape Cod Canal Corporation, and following his father's tradition, vice president of the Waltham Watch Company.

Francis was also an ardent sportsman, passionate about fox hunting. He was one of the founders of the Meadow Brook Club on Long Island and a member of the Myopia Hunt Club, where his brother Randolph served as Master of the Fox Hounds. His Grass Rides allowed family and friends to enjoy horseback riding at the farm for sport and pleasure. Fitting to the occasion, their completion was celebrated by a hunt breakfast and a meet of the Myopia Hounds on Columbus Day 1912.

Ruth Appleton Tuckerman (1857-1929)

Ruth Appleton Tuckerman, whose Boston home was at Number 295 Commonwealth Avenue, and who died in January, 1929, was the daughter of Daniel Fuller Appleton of New York and of Julia Randall Appleton. She married (in 1880) Charles Sanders Tuckerman, one of the three founders of the Old Colony Trust Company, Boston. His mother was Lucy Sanders Saltonstall, daughter of the Leverett Saltonstall who was first mayor of Salem. Doctor John Francis Tuckerman, surgeon in the US Navy, was his family.

Mary Eliza Appleton Hoyt (1860-1927)

Mary “May” Eliza Appleton Hoyt was the youngest daughter of Daniel Fuller Appleton of New York and Julia Randall Appleton. She married (in 1881) Gerald L. Hoyt, he was a partner in the firm Maitland, Coppel & Co. Bankers in New York City. His parents were Lydig Munson Hoyt and Blanche Geraldine Livingston of New York.

Major James Waldingfield Appleton (1867-1942)

James Waldingfield Appleton was the youngest son of Daniel Fuller Appleton of New York and Julia Randall Appleton. He was born in New York on June 4, 1867; and a graduate of Harvard in 1888. He served in the First World War as a commander of a remount purchasing board and later as a commander of Camp Shelby. James also served as the Master of the Hounds at the Myopia Hunt Club in South Hamilton, Massachusetts for many years. He is credited with gathering the first pack of beagle hounds in the United States, known as the Waldingfield Beagles. He served as the President of the New York Beagle Club, and honorary president of the Ipswich Historical Society. He was a member of the Knickerbocker Club of New York and a member of the Meadowbrook Club of Long Island. James did not marry, and worked for the firm Robbins & Appleton in New York who served as agents for the Waltham Watch Company in Waltham, Massachusetts. James Appleton passed away at the age of 75.

Fanny Lanier Appleton (1864-1958)

Fanny Lanier was born in Lenox, Massachusetts in 1864 to Charles Lanier (1837-1926) and Sarah Eggleston (1837-1898). In 1884, she married Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., a New York lawyer and eldest son of Daniel Fuller Appleton. They were married at her family’s summer home in Lenox, and maintained their permanent home in Manhattan.

Fanny and Francis had five children, beginning with Francis Randall Appleton, Jr., (1885-1974), followed by Charles (1886-1921), Ruth (1891-1943), Alice (1894-1987) and James (1899-1915), who died at age 16.

Fanny and Francis left their mark at Appleton Farms by building their own large summer home referred to as “The New House,” completed in 1890. With grand proportions and elegant gardens, the New House would become the center of Appleton Farms’ social life for more than 60 years. An Italian marble fountain, purchased on a trip to London in 1906, was a proud feature of their garden. Moved to its current location many years later, today that fountain greets visitors to the Old House. It was conserved in 2013 as a tribute to Appleton’s 375th anniversary.

Ruth Appleton (1891-1943)

Ruth Appleton was the eldest daughter of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and Fanny Lanier Appleton, and older sister to Alice Appleton Hay. In 1914, Ruth Appleton married William G. Wendell (1888-1967), son of Professor Barrett Wendell (1855-1921) of Harvard University.

Alice Appleton Hay (1894-1987)

Alice Appleton was the younger daughter of Francis Randal Appleton, Sr. and Fanny Lanier Appleton. Alice would later marry Clarence Hay (1884-1969), son of former Secretary of State John Hay (1838-1905, who was a Harvard classmate and friend of her older brothers, Charles and Francis, Jr. The wedding took place at Ascension Memorial Church on August 5, 1914, with a reception at Appleton Farms.

The wedding day also marked the 60th birthday of her father, as well as the dedication of a new monument at Rond Point in the newly completed Appleton Farms Grass Rides.

James Waldingfield Appleton (1899-1915)

James (Jimmie) Appleton was the fifth child and third son of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. He lived in New York, where he was active in the Knickerbocker Greys, and enjoyed his summers at Appleton Farms, playing games in the field outside the New House, now known as “Jimmie’s Field.”

In April of 1913, young Jimmie was operated on for appendicitis, beginning a two-year battle with various blood disorders and ill health. This eventually led to his death in October of 1915 at the age of 16.

Memorials to James can be found at Appleton Farms and in the town of Ipswich. In Ipswich, there is a James Appleton Memorial fountain and public horse-watering trough on the South Village Green across from the Whipple and Heard houses.

Major Charles Lanier Appleton (1886-1921)

Charles Lanier Appleton was born in 1886 to Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and Fanny Lanier Appleton. He attended Harvard with his brother Francis, Jr. and graduated in the class of 1908.

Charles was an avid hunter and wanted to start a “Cambridge Beagles” Club at Harvard. In addition to hunting, he was also a competitive steeplechase racer. He actively raced before college. His father, Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., asked both he and his brother Francis, Jr. to stop racing while in school. He resumed racing in 1911 and rode regularly in Meadow Brook races on Long Island, New York.

Charles served in World War One. He was Major of the 1st battalion of the 367th Infantry, a “negro regiment” also known as the “Buffalo Regiment.” The 367th Infantry was commended for its work during the war, fighting on the line between France and German where they faced gas attacks, carried out raids, and captured prisoners. On March 14th, 1919, Charles was selected to return to the Union League Club of New York, for safe-keeping, the regimental colors which the club presented to the 367th prior to its departure for France.

Charles died of pneumonia in 1921 at the age of 35. After his death, his mother Fanny Lanier Appleton funded the Charles Lanier Appleton Scholarship at Hampton Normal and Agricultural Institute in Hampton, Virginia, described as “an undenominational industrial school founded in 1868 for Negro youth in 1922, his friends at Meadow Brook created the Charles L. Appleton Memorial Cup Steeplechase in his memory.

Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. (1885-1974)

Born in 1885, Francis Randall Appleton, Jr., was the eldest son of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and Fanny Appleton. He would be the final heir to Appleton Farms and the last member of the family to live in the Old House. In 1896, at respective ages of 12 and 11, he and his brother Charles began breeding fox terriers at the farm. They called their operation the “Barberry Kennels.” The dogs were housed in a small shed behind the Old House.

In 1898, Francis, Jr. and Charles began a small paper devoted solely to dogs called “The Kennel Review.” The Barberry Kennels operated on and off until Francis, Jr.’s death in 1974. Throughout his life, Francis, Jr. would be a prominent hunter and dog breeder. He was a member of the National Beagle Club, Meadow Brook, and New York Farmers, as well as a board member of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. graduated from Harvard in 1907 and from Harvard Law in 1910. At Harvard, he was the captain of Class Trap Shooting Team, a member of Harvard Gun Club, Porcellian Club, and Hasty Pudding. He would later serve as Lieutenant Colonel in World War One, stationed in France along with his brother, Charles.

The war was hard on the farm, with labor expensive and in short supply. His mother Fanny wrote to Francis, Jr. in 1918, “Papa talks a great deal of giving up the farming business and I hope he will...” however, he did not, and the family farm business would thrive again.

Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. was the ninth generation of the family to inherit Appleton Farms, by this time a well developed country estate as well as a prosperous farm. Like his father, with whom he was very close; Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. pursued a successful law practice in New York City with the firm of Winthrop & Stimson. Later he practiced international law with the firm of Appleton, Rice & Perrin. All the while, he remained passionate about the farm, and would see it through the Great Depression and another world war. . He married Joan Egleston Appleton (1912-2006) in 1935. They had no children.

Francis, Jr., also known as “the Colonel,” was an avid fox hunter, horse trainer, sheep breeder, and fox terrier breeder. His passion for horses can be seen in the vast collection of photographs and equestrian portraits. “

Joan Egleston Appleton (1912-2006)

Born in Great Britain in 1912, Joan Egleston Appleton had a great love of animals and farming. While in Ipswich visiting her friend, Angela Winthrop, in the early 1930s, Joan had a chance meeting with Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. after he had been thrown off his horse. She retrieved the horse for him. They married in 1935 in Ipswich. She was a second cousin of Francis, Jr.; both descended from Major Azariah Egleston from Lenox who was a Revolutionary War officer.

Joan and Francis, Jr. lived at the Old House, and she remained active in directing the management of the farm. In 1940, she was part of the Women's Land Army, which helped keep the farm operating during World War II. She received an award for the contribution of food in the war effort. Throughout her time at Appleton Farms, Joan maintained the vegetable garden. During the war, she also began breeding goats and Muscovy ducks on the farm as food supply ideas for suburban gardeners.

In 1945, Joan proudly volunteered with the American Red Cross in Europe. Her uniform, which remains in the Appleton Collection, bears her stripes and her pin. She also remained active in a variety of farm and animal organizations.

Joan was very invested in farming operations and kept a daily farm logbook. Passionate about animals, in addition to the cows and horses kept at the farm, she also had turkeys, ducks, rabbits, sheep, pet parrots and monkeys.

The future of the farm was very important to Joan and Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. In addition to their contributions to 20th-century farming and the breeding of cattle, horses, and dogs, they were hosts to family, friends, and royalty, creating a showplace on the North Shore and continuing long- standing relationships with other prominent estate owners of their generation.

Colonel Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. and Joan Appleton bequeathed Appleton Farms to The Trustees of Reservations with the intention that it be preserved and protected for public use.

Contents: Appleton Genealogy, English Ancestors

Genealogical information on the Appleton family in England. Rather than original documentary materials, this group is comprised primarily of compiled genealogical information, in both printed form and manuscript material collected or written by family members. Includes a 19th century watercolor drawing of Holbrook Hall, the ancestral seat of the Appleton family in Suffolk, England.

- File 1 Color lithograph of Appleton coat of arms, taken from The Heraldic Journal recording the Armorial Bearings and Genealogies of American Families, No. VII, July, 1865 (Boston). Lithograph marked, Kilburn & Mallory, Engravers and A. Holland, Printer (see also Box I, File 15 for a copy of the article from which this is taken)
- File 2 Correspondence and printed genealogical information on the Norman branch of the “Apultons.” Includes transcription of will of Thomas Appleton, 1504.
- File 3 Will of Thomas Appleton, 1504, included on p. 57 in article “Abstract of Wills of Early New England Settlers,” New England Historical and Genealogical Register, January 1853.
- File 4 Facsimile/Photostat of early 17th-century English manuscripts related to Appleton family of Suffolk; includes will of Thomas Appleton, 1603
- File 5 Mounted photograph of plaque re: charitable gifts of Edward Appleton of Lyne-hall to the people of Little Waldingfield by his will of 1580
- File 6 Photographs and postcards re: sites of Little Waldingfield district of England, including Holbrook Hall, Appleton Memorials, Lavenham Church and Guild Hall, etc. Also includes 2 copies of a history of Great Waldingfield and Little Waldingfield Churches and an early issue of Old Time New England (proceedings of the SPNEA) w/ reprint of an engraving “View of the Church of Little Waldingfield...” by Torrey after Smart. There are multiple copies of the original of this engraving in the framed artifact collection.
NOTE: Includes some interesting village views not found in the albums or framed material (which duplicates some of the images found here).
- File 7 MSS. (typed) re: account of some of the 16th and 17th-century owners of Holbrook Hall, ancestral seat of the Appleton family, taken from The Manors of Suffolk
- File 8 Watercolor drawing of Holbrook Hall, ancestral seat of the Appleton family in Suffolk. With pencil title added, “Holbrook Hall, before alterations), probably dates from mid 19th Century
- File 9 Pamphlet, “A Sketch of the History of the Appletons of the Counties of Kent, Essex and Suffolk compiled from authentic records of Mr. Lewis Appleton” (originally compiled in 1884)

Box I-A

- File 10 Xerox copies of above pamphlet presumably made by FRA, Jr.

- File 41 MSS. genealogical notes on the Smith-Appleton-Tuckerman line, probably compiled ca. 1950s? Includes references to a sketch of the Cotton Smith family by Byard Tuckerman printed in 1915

Box I-C Hinged Document Box, Letter Size

Contents: Misc. notes, correspondence and printed matter re early Appleton family members and collateral branches of family.

Most from a file probably compiled by Francis Appleton Sr. or his wife Fannie Lanier Appleton and labeled “Many & Various Old Letters and Fragments of Old Times.” Samples include sermons presented by Isaac Appleton to his sister in 1748. Primarily mid 19th-century letters of the children of General James Appleton, father of Daniel Fuller Appleton [see BOX I-D for their papers]

- File 1 Handwritten and typed labels from the “FOT” file above
- File 2 Pamphlet “A Collection of Sermons on Several Subjects preached by the Rev. Ebenezer Erskine...” (Boston), 1744. Inscription presenting volume from Isaac Appleton presented to his sister Priscilla in 1748.
- File 3 Pamphlet, “A Discourse, designed to comfort the afflicted...at the Interment of the Rev. Levi Frisbie” by Asahel Huntington, pastor of the Church of Christ in Topsfield (Salem), 1806. Inscribed to FR from EJW 3/25/17
- File 4 Pamphlet, “A Sermon delivered at Ipswich before the Essex Auxiliary Society for Educating Pious Youth for the Gospel Ministry” by Joseph Dana, pastor of the South Church in Ipswich (Andover), 1816
- File 5 Pamphlet, “A Sermon preached in Boston, at the Annual Election, May 25, 1814, before His Excellency Caleb Strong, Esq., Governour...” by Jesse Appleton, president of Bowdoin College (Boston), 1814
- File 6 Pamphlet, “A Sermon delivered at Portland, November 19, 1818, at the formation of the Maine branch of the American Society for Educating Pious Youth...” by Jesse Appleton, president of Bowdoin College (Hallowell, ME), 1818

Box I-C

- File 7 Letters of Annie Whittemore Appleton Osgood (1831-1915) and her husband Dr. Charles H. Osgood (see also the general folders of sibling correspondence: (Box I-E, Files 5, 6, 7 etc.)
- File 8 Child's Book, Mother Goose in Hieroglyphics by George Appleton, published in New York in 1855. Inscribed to Walter H. Browne from his grandmother in 1859, then from Walter H. Browne to Maud Appleton Fuller (undated). [reprinted, see Box 8, File 33]
- File 9 MSS. Account book of Rev. Samuel Gilman Appleton (1808-1873) born in Portland, the son of General James Appleton and brother of Daniel Fuller Appleton to whom the Appleton Farms passed.
- File 10 Correspondence of Rev. Samuel Gilman Appleton (1808-1873), born in Portland, the son of General James Appleton, dated 1830-50s.
- File 11 Misc. Correspondence and printed matter from "Fragments..." file. Primarily 2nd half 19th-century letters from various Appletons and a group related to Charles Merrill. Pieces of interest include a broadside for the election of Ipswich native son Rufus Choate to Congress and a ribbon from the Giles Firmin Garden Party, August 8th, 1906 [see Box 7, File 30 for correspondence re: the property of Susan Cowles Appleton (second wife of D. F. Appleton) adjacent to the South Common in Ipswich.]

Also of note is a letter dated 1836 from noted Boston merchant and financier Samuel Appleton, who discusses his equally noted brother Nathan's interest in buying a farm in Ipswich. It would be interesting to find out if anything came of this and of the relationship of the Ipswich-New York Appleton family with the prominent Boston branch of the family. This piece of correspondence is perhaps the only tangible documentation (at least in this collection) of any social relationship between the two families. We do know that Thomas Gold Appleton (the artist and grandson? of Samuel Appleton) visited the farm at least once.

- File 12 Pamphlet, "Address by Samuel Appleton, Esq. At Dedication of the Soldiers' Monument, Southborough, Mass..." 1867
- File 13 Letters of Hannah Thayer (also called "Hattie"), wife of Robert Thayer, to and from family members (we believe she is the daughter of Samuel Gilman Appleton?), dated ca. 1840s-60s [She is the sister of Daniel Fuller Appleton]

Box I-C

- File 14 Correspondence of the Morgan family: Joanna “Joey” Dodge Appleton (1821-1870), daughter of Gen. James Appleton, and her husband Peyton R. Morgan and son James Appleton Morgan. Of note is the letter from Mr. Morgan asking for Joanna’s hand in marriage, and also letters from young James to his grandfather. Letters dated ca. 1840s-60s
- File 15 Pamphlet, “A History of the Morgan Family” by Appleton Morgan, ca. 1895. A genealogical summary, concentrating on the English lineage
- File 16 Letters of M. P. Hanson and Anna Hanson, ca. 1850s. Several to General James Appleton
- File 17 Letters of Miss Mary White Appleton (1815-1905), daughter of General James Appleton; she remained unmarried. (There may be some others mixed in with this small group)
- File 18 Letters of the Millet family (and others?). Sarah Fuller Appleton (1811-1884), daughter of General James Appleton, married Rev. Stephen Millett. Letters date 1848-85
- File 19 Memorial pamphlet w/ eulogy re: Daniel Caldwell Millett (1846-1908) son of Sarah Fuller Appleton Millett (1811-1884)

John Phelps Cowles (Yale) and Eunice Caldwell of Ipswich, who was one of the first teachers at Mt. Holyoke with founder Mary Lyons. They ran Ipswich Seminary for Girls. Also close friends of the Blaine family of Washington D. C.
- File 17 WWI letters of James Waldingfield Appleton (1867-1942) to his step-mother Susan Cowles Appleton, ca. 1918-1919, mostly while serving overseas in the Remount Division of the Army.
- File 18 Obituary of Susan Cowles Appleton (undated, ca. 1923)

Box I-D

- File 19 Correspondence of FRA, Jr. Re: Susan C. Appleton's bequest for a cross for Ascension Memorial Church of Ipswich (see also Box 7, File 30 for her property called Giles Firmin Garden adjacent to the South Common in Ipswich. Apparently this parcel was part of a group purchased along the County Road by an association of "summer people" and others for the beautification of the district.)

Box I-E Hinged Document Box, Letter Size

Contents: Papers of the children of Gen. James Appleton

Correspondence and personal papers of the children of General James Appleton (the siblings Daniel Fuller Appleton) and related or collateral families. Most from the file probably compiled by Francis Appleton Sr. or his wife Fannie Lanier Appleton and labeled "Many & Various Old Letters and Fragments of Old Times."

- File 1 Letters of James Appleton Jr. (1813-1882), the son of General James Appleton and brother of Daniel Fuller Appleton. James was born in Portland, ME and was married to Sarah Edwards
- File 2 Will (dated 1862) and Obits of James Appleton (1813-1882), born in Portland, the son of General James Appleton and brother of Daniel Fuller Appleton to whom the Appleton Farms passed

Box 7

- File 28 Correspondence re: Harvard War Memorial, ca. 1925-28
- File 29 Correspondence re: Briar Hill House, ca. 1925. This house sat in the middle of the farm, but was owned jointly by several family members (“cousins”), not by “our” Appletons. Aunt Hattie (Harriet Hooper Appleton, sister of DFA and wife of Rev. Roland Cotton Smith, and her daughter Ellen Appleton Smith with her husband Chalmers Wood were among the owners until it was purchased from them in 1925 by FRA, Sr.
[See also I-E, Box 4]
- File 30 Correspondence, FRA, Sr. as Trustee of property of Susan Cowles Appleton (second wife of Daniel Fuller Appleton) called Giles Firmin Garden adjacent to the South Common in Ipswich. Apparently this parcel was part of a group purchased along the County Road by an association of “summer people” and other residents for the purpose of beautification of the district. There seems to have been a house with a tenant (Mrs. Waters) on the property owned by SCA. In 1925, in accordance with the will of SCA, her Trustees offered the parcel to the Town of Ipswich (we assume they accepted; may want to identify this property). Note: The file also contains a bill for paper hanging
- File 31 Misc. Letters to FRA, Sr., 1926. Personal and quasi-business; many from friends, Harvard classmates and associates re: various clubs, activities, interests of FRA. Includes one from a “cousin” B. Woods regarding the gift of the bell from the Briar Hill cottage (see file 29 above). Also a letter from Bronson Winthrop after the death of his son (?) Egerton and one from FRA’s grandson John Hay. One letter, from Richard Delafield, Chairman of the Board of The National Park Bank of New York, is an excellent example of the esteem and affection in which FRA, Sr. was held by his colleagues and alludes to his great gift for letter writing. This letter is a rare insight into the personality of FRA, Sr.
- File 32 Correspondence re: Memorial Hospital, 1926-7
- File 33 Correspondence and MSS. research notes from H. A. Mattice, sent from the New York Public Library to FRA, Sr. Notes are regarding
1) a German painting “In the Cloister Cellar” and 2) governments of the world (possibly notes for a speech?), esp. Angora and Germany.
- File 34 Business papers re: Port Royal Lime and Warehouse Company and Port Royal and Augusta Railway (South Carolina). File includes early company papers from ca. 1878-1881, and later correspondence from FRA, Sr. The company, founded to store fertilizers shipped from the North, was disbanded about the turn of the century when fertilizers began to be made locally in the South. The property was bought outright by FRA, Sr. who hoped that the area would have an economic resurgence. Included waterfront property.

Box 7

- File 35 Passport of FRA, Sr., 1927
- File 36 Correspondence re: F. S. Gould Memorial at Harvard, 1927-8. Includes letters from architectural firm of Coolidge Shepley Bulfinch & Abbot. Also sample of bookplate used for books purchased from the book fund set up in his honor (Class of 1875). This is another example of how active FRA, Sr. remained in the affairs of the Harvard Class of 1875 throughout his life
- File 37 Misc. Letters to FRA, Sr., 1927-8. Personal and quasi-business; many from friends, Harvard classmates and associates re: various clubs, activities, interests of FRA. A sampling of the several dozen letters includes several re: NY Farmers Association especially dinners and a gift of a loving cup (at time FRA, Jr. and Bronson Winthrop also on board), Phillips Academy, a letter from Wm Sumner Appleton of SPNEA about the Ipswich Historical Society's proposed move of the Whipple House and notes on a proposed monument honoring Ipswich men in WWI.
- NOTE: Includes a letter from architectural firm Little & Browne regarding the proposed gate for the improved road off of Waldingfield Road; [a related sketch by the firm is in Scrapbook No. 2 in Box 28 and plans are in Box 50, File 5.] Herbert Browne was a relation of FRA Sr.; being related to Charles Emerson Fuller [see Box 28, scrapbook 1]
- File 38 Misc. Letters to FRA, Sr., 1928. Personal and quasi-business; primarily from friends and family and Harvard classmates and associates re: various clubs, activities, interests of FRA. A sampling includes letters re: War Memorial for Holden Chapel at Harvard, and a letter from his nephew Lydig Hoyt (son of his sister Mary E. Appleton Hoyt) in France re: his engagement to Helen Willis (nee Hoadley), and notes from Holbrook Hall in Suffolk, England with whom apparently FRA, Sr. had some correspondence on genealogy of the like. Of note is a fine letter from FRA, Jr. on Appleton, Rice & Perrin letterhead with a wonderful description of a hunt at Meadow Brook with the Crown Prince of Sweden. Also two postcards re: other Meadow Brook business, including appointing FRA, Jr. a Joint Master of the Hunt (he was presently serving as Secretary and Treasurer of the Club)
- File 39 Correspondence re: Harvard Class of 1875 (1928)
- File 40 Obits and Misc. Clippings re: death of FRA, Sr., 1929
- File 41 Letters of Condolences, clippings and ephemera related to the death of FRA, Sr. (primarily to FRA, Jr.). File includes dozens of items.
- File 42 Resolution adopted by Harvard Club upon death of FRA, Sr. (multiple copies). Also memorial photo from Phillips [Academy] Bulletin

Box 7

- File 43 MSS. “LIST OF MEMORIALS, THE ERECTION OF WHICH F. R. A. HAS BEEN CONCERNED” (presumed compiled by FRA, Jr.). An excellent summary of the interests and activities of FRA, Sr.
- File 44 Sketch of Memorial Tablet for Church of the Ascension in memory of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. designed by Little & Browne
- File 45 Misc. Ephemera, card with poem “Opportunity” privately printed by FRA, Sr. to give as gifts (date unknown)

Box 8, Group G Plastic Bulk Container

Contents: Personal papers of James Waldingfield Appleton and Randolph Morgan Appleton.

Primarily personal letters to the brothers as young men, from family and friends.

NOTE: These letters were salvaged from a larger group found in two large wooden boxes in which several generations of mice had made their homes. Although these have been aired and quasi-disinfected in a chamber), they have been isolated because they are still contaminated with mice droppings and retain a lot of odors! Many are partial letters, fragments or wrinkled up bundles. Because of their condition, most of these letters have not been unfolded nor their contents examined beyond a minimal review.

- File 1 Tied bundle of essays? and correspondence, ca. 1870s
- File 2 Personal correspondence to RMA, some dated 1878. Primarily from his parents DFA and Julia Randall Appleton; also friends and relatives including Herbert Browne, Sam Hall and others. There are probably during his last years at Phillips Academy
- File 3 Personal correspondence to RMA, dated ca. 1879. Similar to above
- File 4 Small bundles of personal correspondence to RMA, ca. 1878-80. Several dozen letters. Some have RMA's pencil notations indicating initials of senders and dates. Seem to be primarily friends
- File 5 Similar to above, includes a bundle from his father DFA
- File 6 Copies of Phillips Exeter Academy school paper, The Exonian, 1878-9
- File 7 Bundled groups of letters and ephemera of James W. Appleton, Harvard class of 1888. Includes Porcellian Club lunch tickets, menus, calling cards, Delta Kappa Epsilon handbook, etc
- File 8 School essays and other papers (about 4) of JWA during Harvard college days, ca. 1886-8
- File 9 Two college publications: 1) Harvard College catalog for 1890-91 and 2) physical exercise book
- File 10 Personal correspondence to young JWA (called "Jimmie" and later "Jimmy" and Jim" by his family and friends and "Ticky" by his brother "Budd"/RMA). Most date 1877ish. Some from his brother and Aunt Hattie. A charming group from his friend or cousin "J. F. Wood" (?) which include cartoons and the usual boyish hijinks.

Box 8, Group G

- File 11 Personal correspondence to JWA, 1880s. Most from his brothers FRA and RMA, some from father DFA and others. Of interest are the letters from RMA on Carter & Ledyard, attorneys, stationery at 66 Wall Street. Typical chit-chat re: family matters and horse affairs. Several dozen.
- File 12 Porcellian Club menus from JWA's days at Harvard College, ca. 1887
- File 13 Bills and Receipts of JWA's purchases from Harvard College days, ca. 1885-8
- File 14 Personal correspondence to JWA, a number in sympathy for the death of his mother in 1886
- File 15 Notebook with hand-written "Rules of the Harvard Polo Club" from papers of JWA
- File 16 MSS. invitation list sent to JWA ca. 1880s, for unidentified event (possibly Harvard related, perhaps his graduation?)
- File 17 Bills and Receipts for personal attire and furnishings purchased by JWA, 1880s. About 10 items in file.
- File 18 Personal correspondence to JWA, 1880s. Most from his brothers FRA and RMA, also cousin Julia and others.
- File 19 Misc. ephemera re: activities and interests of JWA
- File 20 Correspondence to JWA. Some are only fragments and all are very mousey, stained and torn and hard to read. Most undated.

Summary of Contents: Correspondence to FRA, Jr., Re: Military Service (WWI) [Box 1 of 4 related to Colonel Appleton's military career.]

FRA, Jr. was commissioned Captain, Infantry Section, Officers' Reserve on November 8, 1916 after attending three Plattsburg camps. He was called to active service in 1917. After brief stateside berths, he sailed for France with the 307th Infantry in April, 1918. He served as assistant acting chief of staff to the 77th Division. He completed training at the Army General Staff College and saw action near Verdun and was promoted to Major. He then served a series of administrative posts, including Secretary of the General Staff of the 2nd Army and then the General Staff of the A. E. F., where he was promoted to Lt. Colonel. He returned to New York and was discharged in July, 1919.

- File 1 Letters to FRA, Jr. 1916-21. A compilation of official and personal correspondence. Includes some letters from men with which he served, letters from pre-war associates and official memorandum re: his service. Of note are copies of his recommendation to the Officers Training program at Plattsburg, NY from family friend Theodore Roosevelt
- File 2 Correspondence, clippings, printed matter and ephemera primarily from military training. Includes a group labeled "Papers of Corp. John Donnelly" and MSS. of speech given at Harvard Club for Gen. Wood
- File 3 Letters to FRA Jr. from his mother and sisters, 1918-1919
- File 4 List of Meadow Brook Club members serving in WWI, 1918
Includes both CLA and FRA, Jr. as well as Vanderbilts, Fishes and others of the New York social scene
- File 5 Misc. printed matter and correspondence, mostly re: active service. Includes items like rosters, insurance policy, and letters re: pay vouchers, but also personal items like a bill for his subscriptions to Punch and Town and Country being sent to Paris. Some of the military letters reveal typical army high-jinks and screw-ups. Includes some personal letters from colleagues, etc.
- File 6 A compilation of personal letters. Most are from friends and colleagues, but the diverse group ranges from a letter to his bank arranging for funds, request by the Mayor of New York to serve on a city-wide committee for local defense, and a letter ordering cigars from London. Included is a particularly charming group from good friend Kathryn von Stede (?) in New York. One from E. Somerville Tattersall from London provides a great description at length of how to position oneself for the best views of the Grand National!
- File 7 Letters to FRA Jr. from his father (some to his brother CLA). A letter of November fifth talks about FRA Sr.'s redecorating of a little office in front of the house (presumably the New House), with white walls and oak paneling and decorated with prints that he had strewn about the house. Very newsy letters, about his sisters and cousins, Harvard Club and social events, etc. The farm figures prominently but interspersed with lots of other general news
- File 8 MSS. (typed) "Military Record of Lt. Col. Francis R. Appleton, Jr."
- File 9 Personal Correspondence to FRA, Jr., 1919. Primarily from friends from class of 1907 (most also serving overseas) and from fellow officers, etc. as well as friends from home. A particularly interesting letter is a copy of one Frank writes to acquaintances in England, requesting a mount for hunting during a short leave! Also of note is a letter from a fellow class of 1907 member “JH” on letterhead of the peace negotiations from Paris

Box 13

- File 10 MSS. transcript of a diary of FRA Jr.’s motor trip/fact finding trip to the Rhineland, Feb. 2-6, 1919
- File 11 Letters to FRA Jr., 1919.
General quasi-official correspondence, primarily of a social tone, with fellow officers. Provides some insight into the social ties and activities of elite officers of this era.
- File 12 Personal letters from family and friends, 1919.
Several from Ipswich families who had lost sons in war. Also a letter requesting Frank to speak at the Layman’s Club at the Church of St. John the Divine in NYC
- File 13 Catalogues from Military Horse Shows and Exhibitions, 1919
- File 14 Military Commissions, FRA, Jr. 1916-1921

- File 1 Wallet of Charles Lanier Appleton, used overseas, with pen inscriptions

NOTE: Charles Lanier attended the Plattsburg Camp at 1916 and was commissioned 2nd Lieutenant. After attending the 1917 encampment he was promoted to Captain. In November, 1917, CLA was assigned to the 367th (colored) Infantry, 92nd Division in command of the Supply Company. He sailed for France in June. He was promoted to Major in the field. He was then assigned to command the 1st Battalion of the 367th which he retained until the regiment was mustered out in March, 1919 in New York. The battalion was in the line at Meuse-Argonne offensive and later saw action in the Toul sector. After the armistice they were part of the occupation army in German Lorraine. Upon the return to New York, CLA was selected to formally return for safekeeping the regimental colors which the Union League Club of New York had presented them upon their formation. The president of the club, Charles Evans Hughes, accepted them. This was the fifth time that colors presented to African American regiments by the Club had been returned with glory.

Box 19 Hinged Document Box, Letter

Contents: Day books of Francis R. Appleton, Jr., 1911-1926.

The daybooks are excellent records of the activities of a wealthy socialite and gentleman farmer and sportsman. Entries record dinners, walks, hunts, etc. However, this is just a daily record of activities, with no introspection or commentary at all. Most entries are simply “Lunch CLA” and the like. Occasionally there is a comment on the level of the hunt or the field or if a horse ran “well”, but rarely more than that.

- File 1 Journals of Sarah Egleston, later Mrs. Charles Lanier and mother of Frances Lanier (wife of FRA, Sr.), on her first trip to Europe, 1847. Three small notebook size journals of the trip plus two tiny notebooks of riddles
- File 2 Two journals of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. as a schoolboy, 1864. Inscribed with title “Francis R. Appleton Journal Vol. No. 2” and “Journal of 1864 beginning February 13th 1864. Volume No. 3.” As he mentions his father almost every entry, this journal and the next provide insight into the personality of Daniel Fuller Appleton and his close relationship with his son as much as the daily activities of a well-to-do New York City school boy. The family is living at No. 16 East 29th St.
- File 3 Journal of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr., as young man, 1877. Primarily travels in Europe in June through October, 1877
- File 4 Journal of trips taken by Francis Randall Appleton, Jr., as a young man, between 1903 and 1911. Daily accounts with scrapbook entries, but the trips are out of date order. Appears to have been bound later from other journals or may be transcribed

Box 27 Hinged Document Box, Letter

Contents: Scrapbooks of Letters of the sons of Francis Randall Appleton and Frances Lanier Appleton, compiled by their father and bound.

- Artifact 1 “LETTERS OF FRANCIS APPLETON, JR.” [dating 1898-1914].
Begins with letters from boarding school Groton School, primarily about sports and other school topics. These early letters show a close bond between father and son and also a shared interest in dogs and horses. E.g., a letter of 6/19/98 from the farm to his father talks of young Frank’s intention to breed his new puppy and about playing polo. Much of the letters refer to hunts, social life, and visits to Appleton Farms during the summers throughout his school and college years. Includes trip abroad to Ireland and England in 1909, after graduating from Harvard Law School.

Box 27

- Artifact 2 “LETTERS OF CHARLES LANIER APPLETON” [dating 1898-1915]
Similar contents. Frank and Charlie were inseparable as boys and young men, and much of their letters include both of their interests and activities.
- Artifact 3 “LETTERS OF JAMES WALDINGFIELD APPLETON” [dating 1902-1915]
Much of the same, especially to his mother as a very young boy. He often mentions his older sister Ruth, with whom he was especially close. Also, most are from the farm, before he goes off to Groton following in the footsteps of his brothers. He talks of dogs, horses, sports (a favorite pastime is football) and presents, all the things that boys love. Jimmie died tragically in 1915 as a teenager

Box 28 Bulk Letter File Box

Contents: Oversize Scrapbooks of Mr. & Mrs. Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and FRA, Jr.

- Artifact 1 Scrapbook, labeled “Civil War Stories dictated by Colonel Charles E. Fuller.” Compiled by FRA Sr. (letter addressed to “Frank” at 21 Maiden Lane, NYC which is the address of Robbins & Appleton mercantile firm). Includes letter from Herbert Browne of Little and Browne re: a memoir “The Recollections of a Soldier” and an article from Boston Herald (June 8, 1902), both regarding the war service of Col. Charles Emerson Fuller. Herbert Browne was also related to CEF. Bulk of book is misc.. stories from the newspaper and the memoirs of CEF. Of Note are the two letters at the back of the book, dated 1907, from CEF to FRA Sr. who had requested that the old soldier send him stories
- Artifact 2 Scrapbook labeled “F.R.A. No. 1” compiled by Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and representing his varied interests and activities, primarily but not exclusively related to his Harvard alumni activities. Items that are representative or of interest include a photo of the urn given to John Elliot of the Taconic Club (see Taconic Club scrapbook Box 31, Item 1), letters from NY Chamber of Commerce, re: his trusteeship at Philips Academy (his alma mater) and his work with the NY Farmers Association. There are also business records from the Waltham Watch Company and from other investments, etc. There is also a stud pedigree of the hunter Juno and a drawing of the entrance gate to Appleton Farms proposed by prominent Boston architects working in the Colonial Revival style, Little and Browne (see also Box 7, file 37 for letter regarding the gate). One item of interest is printed matter about the Giles Firmin Garden in Ipswich (see also Box 7 File 30 re: this property on the South Common). Items in this scrapbook date 1900-1916

Conclusion: The scrapbooks are important compliments to the other personal papers and should be inventoried in more depth to help fill in gaps in the general correspondence files.

- Artifact 3 Scrapbook of Ipswich history and local hunting meets, compiled by Francis R. Appleton Sr. Clippings date 1894-1902. Primarily newspaper clippings on historical subjects, Ipswich sites, on historical society meetings, local meetings of Society of Colonial Wars. Other major subjects are events at Meadow Brook and local Ipswich hunts. Interspersed are some clippings on the family, including the obituary of Charles Osgood (1895), items about the Halls and the Tuckermans, etc. Fragile
- Artifact 4 General family scrapbook of the Appleton's and the Boston and Ipswich social scene, compiled by Mr. or Mrs. Francis R. Appleton Sr. Primarily newspaper clippings dating 1903-1916. Hunting events predominate. Later clippings include references to the war in Europe and the Plattsburg training camp in NY. Interspersed with mementos and some photos (includes one of Jimmie on the ice at Groton in 1914, possibly one of the last before his death in 1915)

Box 29 Bulk Letter File Box

Contents: Oversize Scrapbooks of Mr. & Mrs. Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. and Col. And Mrs. Francis Randall Appleton, Jr.

- Artifact 1 Scrapbook of memorials and letters of sympathy, etc. re the death of Daniel Fuller Appleton (compiled by his son FRA Sr.). Includes obituaries, sermons, and letters from grandchildren as well as from the members of the Waltham Watch Co. (later American Watch Co.) and other members of the jewelry industry in United States
- Artifact 2 Letters to Frances Lanier Appleton (Mrs. Francis R. Appleton, Sr.) on the death of FRA, Sr. in 1929
- Artifact 3 Scrapbook Compiled by Francis Randall Appleton Jr., dating 1912-35. Random sampling of correspondence, primarily about personal interests. Includes speeches and menu from dinner for Charles Lanier (his grandfather) and one for a dinner for Bud (Randolph Morgan Appleton, his uncle) [some of these may have been delivered by his father and saved by FRA Jr. One interesting group of letters about old wills and literary wills, particularly a fanciful piece by soldier and poet Williston Fish. FRA was interested in the will as a literary device (an interesting blend of his legal and social bent).
- Artifact 4 Scrapbook compiled by Joan Egleston on her marriage to Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. in 1935. Includes invitations to wedding reception hosted by Mr.

Box 29

& Mrs. Frederic Winthrop, Jr. at Groton House, Hamilton. Includes items such as postcards from Limpsfield (her home town in England), White Star Line passenger list (from honeymoon trip to England), Appleton Farms Christmas cards from 1934 (year of their engagement?), telegrams, newspaper accounts of the wedding and misc. mementos from trip. Includes other items from her first year of marriage, such as Myopia invitations and items related to the death of King George the fifth including a telegram from Buckingham Palace to FRA Jr. (the family had hunted with Edward when Prince of Wales and hosted a luncheon at Appleton Farms)

- Artifact 5 Scrapbook compiled by Joan Egleston Appleton (Mrs. FRA Jr.) in 1943, during her overseas service with the American Red Cross during World War II

Box 30 Bulk Letter File Box

Contents: Scrapbooks of FRA Sr.

- Artifact 1 Travels in New Hampshire... Privately published account of a car trip through New Hampshire FRA, Sr. and two younger Harvard alumni and colleagues. A delightful romp and fun read, revealing the lighter side of FRA. Includes mounted photographs of the trip.
- Artifact 2 Scrapbook, College career of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr. Material dates 1871-ca. 1910. Primarily material from Harvard University, Class of 1875, but also law school examination papers from Columbia Law School, New York. Includes material from FRA Sr.'s undergraduate days through later years as trustee of the University and active member of the Class of '75 alum activities. Undergraduate materials include news clipping about undergraduate activities, especially sporting events and the crew team. FRA Sr. rowed for Harvard and there are a number of his trophies and two pairs of oars in the artifact collection. Includes a few alum items from Phillips Academy
- Artifact 3 Scrapbook, "Newspaper Clippings/Varsity Races/Saratoga 1875" Compile by FRA, Sr. while at Harvard. Primarily news clippings on boat races (some with illustrations). Includes pamphlet "Two Lessons from the University Boat Race of 1914" by Richard H. Dana, reprinted from The Harvard Graduates' Magazine
- Artifact 4 Scrapbook, Personal and College Alum Ephemera of FRA, Sr. Particularly related to alum and trustee/overseer activities, randomly mounted into the album. Includes articles on classmates; correspondence re: Porcellian Club; articles on Phillips Academy. Some personal non-school related documents embedded in the collection, including horse auction catalogue and bills on the purchase of a mare

Box 30

- Artifact 5 Scrapbook, “Groton School Reports”
School reports of the sons of Francis Randall Appleton Sr. (CLA, FRA Jr. and JWA), compiled and bound by their father. Ca. 1885-1915
- Artifact 6A Scrapbook, “F. L. A. Vol. I” 1894-1914
One of three scrapbooks of family memorabilia compiled by Frances Lanier Appleton, wife of FRA Sr. Primarily clippings and ephemera from social events related to the Appleton family; some on Laniers; many related to the farm and Ipswich (historical sketches, Myopia hunt). Includes invitations from Pres Roosevelt, ambassadors, the America Cup Races, etc. Includes items from overseas, notably to Queen Victoria’s Diamond Jubilee (p. 22)
- Provides an excellent insight into the social milieu in which the Appletons were part in the heyday of the “North Shore Gold Coast” and the eminence of the family as they traveled between New York, the North Shore, Washington DC and Europe. Items of note: invitation to the marriage of Consuela Vanderbilt to the Duke of Marlborough (p. 46), letter from Theo Roosevelt to FRA Sr. (p. 40), bill for miniature of Alice painted in Paris (p. 78), notices re: marriages of daughters Ruth and Alice (p. 136 & 140), death of Jimmie (p. 148-49)
- Artifact 6B Scrapbook, “F. L. A. Vol. II” 1914-1929
Similar to above, this is very much the collection of a doting mother, with items related to the activities of her children and their spouses (e.g., p. 11 has the announcement of the commencement of the law partnership of Appleton, Perrin & Hoyt, the firm begun by her son Francis Randall Appleton, Jr. in 1916 before going to war). There is lots of material on the War, particularly news clippings and material from FRA, Jr. and CLA (and his regiment of “Buffalo soldiers”) Also includes clippings about the careers of her son-in-law Wm G. Wendell and grandson John Hay (his grandfather was Secretary of State of same name) and other socialite weddings and events. Of note are invitations from Theodore Roosevelt (personal friend of FRA Sr) and articles on the Lanier family, particularly Charles Lanier (FLA’s long-lived father and prominent Stockbridge-Lenox socialite). Of note is item re: Alice (Mrs. C L Hay) having her sketch by John Singer Sargent (see famed copy in artifact collection).
- Artifact 6C Scrapbook, “F. L. A. Vol. II” 1929-1957
As above, more invitations and clippings on society marriages, social events, historical monuments, Harvard tercentenary, etc. Of note are items re: death of her husband FRA Sr. (p. 2-3), picture and article on James F. D. Lanier (brother? and hunt proponent, p. 32-35), wedding of FRA Jr. (p. 59), death of James Appleton (an uncle, p. 90) and article on shipment of California sheep to Appleton Farms (p. 53) and a Breeder’s sale at the Farm (p.101)

Box 31 Bulk Letter File Box

Contents: Scrapbooks of FRA Jr.

- Artifact 1 Scrapbook, The Log of the Taconite Club (1909)
Privately published volume augmented by mounted photographs, records the cross-country fact-finding and social jaunt of nationally prominent businessmen from the North Shore on the Northern Pacific Railroad (courtesy of friend and president of the RR). The group visited mines, farming operations, etc. across the Midwest, ending about Colorado. FRA, Jr. served as Treasurer of the group
- Artifact 2 Scrapbook, “Miscellaneous Dinners I” (1906-1925)
Menus, invitations and a few photographs and ephemera items primarily from dinners of men’s clubs, hunt clubs and private friends of FRA Jr. Includes dinners hosted by FRA Jr. himself. Of note are a photo of CLA at Porcellian Club, poems by Roland C. Smith, dinners for the Prince of Wales visit in 1909, and the table plan for American Legion dinner of 1919 at the Knickerbocker Club (FRA Jr. was one of the founding members of the American Legion in Paris after WWI)
- Artifact 3 Scrapbook, “Miscellaneous Dinners II” (ca. 1920s?)
Approximately 10 menus from various club dinners, includes seating arrangements for parties given by FRA Jr. and a hand-drawn cartoon re: the famed Appleton Farms turkeys served at one of those events
- Artifact 4 Scrapbook, “Miscellaneous Dinners 1903-1919” [Vol. III]
More menus, place cards, invitations and ephemera from various club dinners and parties hosted by friends and classmates. Hunt clubs (particularly Myopia) and Harvard-related dinners are prominent. Many of the menus are extremely decorative with lots of visual appeal, including some that are hand-drawn. Many have personal notes or messages
- Artifact 5 Scrapbook, Hunt Fixtures (1903-1922)
Primarily schedules for the Myopia Hunt and other equestrian events; similar material for the Meadow Brook hunt club on Long Island of which FRA Jr. was also a member. Some additional clippings from miscellaneous horse events

Summary of Contents: Oversize Early Scrapbooks of Francis Randall Appleton, Sr.

- Artifact 1 Scrapbook of correspondence, compiled by Francis R. Appleton, Sr.(or possibly by Fannie). Letters dating from the 1860s through 70s. Letters from various members of the family, particularly his mother and his wife, also friends. Other letters may be mixed in this voluminous group. Back includes carte de visites, most not Appletons? Probably related branches of family and certainly some are Harvard classmates. (One of two Volumes, see below)

NOTE: This is a very rich source for this period of the family as Frank Sr. begins his college career and married life. The voluminous contents deserve to be more fully explored

- Artifact 2 Similar to above. Scrapbook of correspondence, compiled by Francis R. Appleton, Sr.(or possibly by Fannie). Letters dating from the 1860s through 70s. Letters from various members of the family, particularly his mother and his wife. Also mixed in are letters to DFA and some other family members.
- Artifact 3 Scrapbook labeled “F.R.A. Memoranda Overseers Committee to Visit the Library Harvard College” Voluminous correspondence re visits to library (Gore Hall) and the ensuing work to have a new library or extension. Some discussion on keeping the new building in keeping with the brick and simple tone of the architecture of the Yard. NOTE: Mr. A’s work on this committee probably resulted in his acquisition of the Gore pinnacles that were later mounted as monuments to deceased members of the family over the years

Box 34 Brown Flat Oversize Box

Contents: Oversize Photo Albums and Check Registers

- Artifact 1 Partial photo album (leaves) w/ 5 x 8 color photos of horses frolicking in pasture (presumed to be Appleton Farms), ca. 1960s-70s

Box 34

- Artifact 3 Photograph album, ca 1884-1910. Compiled by Mr. and Mrs. Francis Appleton, Sr. Includes the Old House and the New House. This is very much a family photo album, with the emphasis on the children and family friends. Depicts daily life at Appleton Farms, with DFA, FRA Sr., FLA and JWA figuring prominently. Includes views of the Randall home (FRA's maternal homestead). The second half of the album concentrates on the social lives of FRA and his siblings, some in NYC, in Southampton, attending National Beagle Club events, etc.
- Artifact 4 Four check register books from the personal household accounts of FRA, Jr., dating 1967-1971

Summary of Contents: Photo Albums

- Artifact 1 Photograph album, compiled by Francis Appleton, Jr. (?) ca. 1930. Black and white views of sites around Little Waldingfield, Suffolk, England, the ancestral seat of the Appleton family before emigrating to Ipswich, Massachusetts. Includes Chilton Hall, Suffolk
- Artifact 2 Portfolio style table frame of blue-green leatherette, containing 1) a bust-length studio portrait of Joan Mary Egleston (later Mrs. FRA Jr.) wearing a fur collar and 2) studio portrait of a young man (possible one of her brothers, Keith or John)
- Artifact 3 Photo Album, ca. 1950s
Compiled by Joan E. Appleton (Mrs. FRA Jr.). Begins with Feb. 1956 trip to Tel Aviv and Switzerland with H. P. Egleston (family from England?). Progresses to England visit to the farm of Cousin George McLean, then Elsie Forbes in Shropshire area, then to baby Hugo Egleston at his London home (probably her nephew). Also includes her mother Romola Wellesley training a horse called Roebuck. Highlight of the album are scenes of the Heythrop hunt with wonderful captions by the photographer (JEA!)
- Artifact 4 Photo Album, ca. 1950s
Family photographs of Egleston family in England, compiled by Joan Mary Egleston (later Mrs. FRA Jr.). Begins with Joan as a child at White Hart Lodge in 1925. The album is decorated with cut-outs of cats, dogs and other small farm animals (it is absolutely charming and perfectly in keeping with the interests of a 10 year old). Seems fairly representative of her life as a young girl, with pictures of her "Grandy" at the Manor House, a section on teenage classmates and friends ca. 1928, visits to Les Essarts, the Taylor family and Oberbort Lodge (Alps?) with family. Ends with her "Winter in USA, 1934"

Box 34

[one of the visits with the Appleton family in which she apparently solidified her friendship with her older cousin Frank Jr. to whom she would be shortly engaged]. Includes a group of later loose pictures, primarily visits to family in Europe

- Artifact 5 Photo Album, ca. 1860s-1890s
Cartes des visite and other studio portraits of the Egleston family of America [maternal ancestors of FRA Jr.]. Probably compiled by Sarah Egleston Lanier, mother of Frances Lanier (Mrs. FRA Sr.), or by Fannie herself. Includes at least one Appleton image: a copy of the painting of Longfellow's daughters (his wife was Fannie Appleton, daughter of the Boston merchant Nathan Appleton)
- Artifact 6 Photo Album, ca. 1880-1920s
A family album compiled by Frances Lanier Appleton (Mrs. FRA Sr.). Primarily photo portraits of various Lanier family members and relatives and of FLA's children, nieces and nephews, and grandchildren (Hoyts, Tuckermans, Lawrences and others) as well as some Appletons and Eglestons
- Artifact 7 Photo Album (black/navy), ca. 1894
Probably compiled by Fannie and FRA Sr. First pages are the children FRA Jr., CLA, Ruth and Alice in pony trap on unidentified town street. The remainder is views of old Ipswich, with fishing shacks, village views, High Street, Choate Bridge, early houses in town. Ends with the Old and New houses of Appleton Farms and views of garden and cows
- Artifact 8 Photo Album, ca. 1893-1910.
Family photo, probably compiled by FLA. Depicts the New House and informal vies of the children, horses, grooms, family portraits, children's parties and the like at Appleton Farms. Includes Waldingfield (James's estate?). Also several views of Lanier houses and family members around Lenox, MA and elsewhere. Formal portraits of the children of FRA and FLA as they grow up dominate the middle section of the album. The last section features more informal views of life at the farm, a few in NYC, a tea party in Lenox, other informal gatherings of friends and family, etc.

- Artifact 1 Photo Album, 1965
Color snapshots of visit of Egleston relatives to Appleton Farms in summer of 1965, compiled by JEA. Also a few winter views of farm. NOTE: Album pages are falling out and pictures are faded
- Artifact 2 Photo Album, ca. 1975
Color snapshots of trip to Arizona and Grand Canyon, compiled by JEA. Last page is set of about 10 images of winter visit in golf cart to one of the Gore Hall monuments on the farm, a memorial to FRA Jr., recently deceased. Dogs surround the cart, with horses in snow-covered fields
- Artifact 3 Photo Album, 1984
Color snapshots of trip to England with Joellen O'Neill, compiled by JEA. Includes visits with her brother Keith Egleston and family at Meadow Cottage. A typical tourist-style array of mementos/photos including an aviary, exotic animals at an estate/safari park, gardens, etc. Follows with miscellaneous fall views of Appleton Farms, primarily dogs about the place and a picnic on the estate
- Artifact 4 Photo Album, 1983-4
Color snapshots of varied views around Appleton Farms in all seasons of year, compiled by JEA. Some good views of milking barn, school visitors to farm, construction of the bridge over culvert or railroad tracks with ribbon cutting ceremony, and the annual "live animal" nativity at the farm during the Christmas season
- Artifact 5 Photo Album, ca. 1973-4
Color snapshots of varied views around Appleton Farms compiled by JEA. Includes dogs and other pets in the yard around the Old House and solarium. Other views include lambs in the pasture, horses in pastures, the Ipswich mail coach, and views of the lawn in front of the house overlooking the pastures. Includes a few misc. views of England and Arizona and Red Bank, CA (where JEA and FRA Jr. rented a house for several winters) taken on their frequent visits there
- Artifact 6 Photo Album (green leatherette) 1955-8
Black and white snapshots of horses bred and raised or trained at the Farm, mostly Silver Prince, the burros, Silver Dragon as a foal. A few nice (rare) scenes inside the stables. Several views with dogs, birds, cats, and ducks. The end of the album features a few miscellaneous Egleston family shots and a charming image of Mrs. Appleton in a pony and trap with her greyhound (one of her favorites) along the tree-lined avenue at the Farm (an unusual perspective not seen in other photos). Last pages feature sheep, cattle and draft horses in color

Box 36

- Artifact 7 Photo Album (large red) 1946-50s
Compiled by JEA, includes Mrs. A. showing Percheron brood mare at Topsfield Fair (she was interested in breeding Percherons with thoroughbred hunters to produce heavy hunters for the field). Also views of the old stagecoach, the birth of the foal “Bay State Juno” and many views of his training. Also other horses bred on the farm
- Artifact 8 Photo Album (small red) 1946-50s
Black/white and color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by JEA. Primarily Mrs. A. at the Farm, in England and in Wales. Includes family members, dogs, boating, fishing, skiing, picnicking and other aspects of rural leisure and sporting life
- Artifact 9 Photo Album (red), compiled by JEA and FRA, Jr. 1930-80s
- 1) Color snapshots, primarily Appleton Farms pastures with a few of a horse show.
 - 2) Christmas cards of FRA Jr., 1933-1971. Each depicts a scene of the Farm and includes many aspects of hunting and of farm production from various periods of the farm operation; e.g. the White Holland turkeys, sheep, dairy herd, haying, ponies, sheep, training thoroughbred hunters, the smooth fox terriers of the Barberry Kennels, and the Waldingfield beagles.

- Artifact 1 Photo Album (brown) 1964/5 and 1982/3
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. The 1960s views are primarily exterior views of farmhouse area, especially the “greenhouse” like glass porch, with peacocks and ponies, etc. A few informal interiors. The 1980s views are primarily views of the working farm, dairy cows, horses in pastures and informal visits of family and friends around the grounds. Some interiors, mostly people at family or neighborhood events
- Artifact 2 Photo Album (cream) 1964, 1970, 1980-81
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. The 1964 views depict the solarium and the grounds around the house. Five snapshots from 1970 depict grounds at a house in England (informal, probably family of JEA). The 1980 views depict a similar trip to England, with a manor house and grounds (probably the estate of her grandfather on which JEA was raised). Another set are primarily the pastures, barn and yards with ponies, dogs and cattle of Appleton Farms

Box 37

- Artifact 3 Photo Album (floral) 1969
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Of note are shots of the horses inside the stables, interior view of kitchen of the Old House, outside cages with the monkeys, as well as general views of horses and cows and donkeys in pastures, etc.
- Artifact 4 Photo Album (brown) 1957-64
Black and white and color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Mostly depict horses raised on the farm and farm equipment. Many of the hunters and ponies are identified by name (and some as to sire as well). Included in group are hunting classes, horses being schooled, horse show, hunting with family members, etc. Several interiors, especially the garden solarium
- Artifact 5 Photo Album ca. 1976-78
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Mostly depict horses raised on the farm and views of pastures.
- Artifact 6 Photo Album ca. 3/1988
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Mostly depict views of pastures
- Artifact 7 Photo Album ca. 1988
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Mostly depict views of pastures and the farm buildings
- Artifact 8 Photo Album (red) 1983
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. General household views around farmhouse, including the garden solarium room, pets and visitors, some interiors (also with pets). Of note is a film being made on the farm and a visit to England
- Artifact 9 Photo Album 1983
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. Include the Old House, corn harvesting and other operations at the farm, with the individual pastures and orchards all identified equestrian events. Also have many shots of the exotic pets on Farm, including a mundi, peacocks, etc.

- Artifact 2 Photo Album (long white plastic) 1969
Color snapshots of winter home in California (probably Redlands); with many shots of interior of the house the Appleton's rented, with friends, etc. Second half of album is back at Ipswich, with a large number of photos of one of the Myopia hunts. The last group is a visit by Mrs. Appleton's brother and his family from England.
- Artifact 3 Photo Album (large white plastic) 1970
Color snapshots of trip to California, including Disneyland, and other parts of southwest. In their later years, the Appletons wintered in California and the southwest.
- Artifact 4 Photo Album (ochre yellow) 1972
Color snapshots of Arizona desert and Appleton Farms compiled by Joan E. Appleton. The farm views are primarily exterior views of the pastures and horses, with a few of the solarium room with exotic birds and monkeys.
- Artifact 5 Photo Album (large green) ca. 1970s
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms, primarily horses in pastures in winter. Also a visit to another farm, probably family or friends of Joan E. Appleton in England.
- Artifact 6 Photo Album (tiny brown) ca. 1980s
Color snapshots of Appleton Farms, with a range of family life on the farm: a few views of dogs in the yard, horses, pastures, etc.

Summary of Contents: Material Related to Production and Management of Appleton Farms, 1950s-1980s

This is a miscellaneous group of materials in some way related to life at Appleton Farms during the last phases of operation. Most are related to farm management and production, although it is very spotty and not comprehensive. Items range from personal letters to caretakers, daily logs by JEA, materials on random employees, etc. Important group are 1) the Christmas Cards with photos of the farm (File 3), and files on the ease-ways of the railroad and Route I-A. See also the Boxes 51-52 on Household Financials (some farm expenses are embedded in these), Box 53 on the Dairy and Beefalo herds, Boxes 57-58 for Dog breeding and Boxes 54 & 55 re: fox hunting and training horses to get a more comprehensive view of the range of activities at the estate.

- File 1 Photographs of Farm Animals and Production (other than Horses and Cows). File contains several photos of turkeys and other poultry and 2 of pigs. [For additional photographs of livestock on farm, see the various photo albums and also Boxes above for Dairy and Beefalo herds, Dog breeding and Horses
- File 2 Photographs of Family Life at Appleton Farms. Snapshots from the 1960s-70s, primarily of family and friends visiting farm, the farm families, FRA Jr. and JEA informally at home, etc.

Box 48

- File 3 Collection of Appleton Farms Christmas Cards, 1930s-70s, each with a photograph of the farm. Emphasis on traditional farm production and on hunting horses
- File 4 Pedigree certificates and clippings re: cats
- File 5 Photographs (snapshots) and printed matter re: exotic animals on the farm (includes monkey, raccoon and pygmy goats), ca. 1970s
- File 6 Photographs, printed matter and bills re: pet birds at Appleton Farms, ca. 1950s-70s
- File 7 Appleton Farms stationery, ca. 1970s-80s
- File 8 Appleton Farms stationery, ca. 1950s-60s
(green with illustrations of the Guernsey and Polled Herefords)
- File 9 Propagator's Licenses issued to Joan E. Appleton from Commonwealth of Massachusetts to breed birds and animals commercially, late 1970s
- File 10 Ephemera re: Appleton Farms production. File has two items: a label re: selling choice hay and a newspaper clipping re: raising goats for milk and muscovy ducks for meat at the Farm (Boston Globe, 1943)
- File 11 Labels/signs from Farm. Three items in file: 1) Appleton Fancy Apples label; 2) Appleton Farm label for shipping "Perishables"; and 3) no trespassing sign
- File 12 Sheep and Wool Production, 1960s? File contains one photograph of sheep by barn and one piece of correspondence re: sale of wool
- File 13 Bills and printed matter re: misc. personal and small farm equipment used at the Farm, 1940-50s. Ranges from leather punch, bicycle, fire extinguishers, lawn mower, etc.
- File 14 Documents and photographs re: personal vehicles and small farm vehicles/trucks used on farm. Includes several early photographs of Mrs. Appleton with her cars
- File 15 Printed matter and bill re: electric adult tricycle used by Mrs. Appleton as personal transport around grounds, ca. 1980
- File 16 Ephemera and printed matter re: products of use on farm. Includes local sources of poultry for propagation
- File 17 Correspondence for signs made for Farm in 1977

Box 48

- File 18 Correspondence re: consolidation of the farming operations at Appleton Farms in the late 1970s. Includes the sale of the dairy herd. The 1982 letter from the law firm of Hutchins and Wheeler includes a valuable summary of the decline of the farm and the reorganization designed to make it profitable in 1979-80s, as well as Mrs. Appleton's active involvement in the daily management of the property
- File 19 Memo written in 1948 by FRA Jr. re: the history of the Appleton Hereford herd (see also Box 53, File 18 for similar MSS. history; Box 53 includes more on the various herds in general)
- File 20 Log of incoming and outgoing mail begun by Mrs. Appleton for 1974-5
- File 21 Misc. notes from JEA to caretakers re: care of animals and grounds while she is away, ca. 1976-78
- File 22 Compiled MSS. journals or yearly summaries of farm operations, 1975-78
- File 23 Notebook pages of Farm and Personal Logs w/ brief daily entries by JEA, 1976-77. Information about typical work on farm is embedded in the notebooks. Not complete

Contents: Misc. Papers re: Breeding Horses at Appleton Farms

The group is comprised primarily of notes and papers compiled by Joan E. Appleton during her years of actively breeding horses at Appleton Farms 1950s through 70s. There is some limited material re: breeding or purchasing of horses by FRA Sr. and FRA Jr., particularly photographs of the latter on his favorite mounts. Similar framed photos are included in the artifact collection. Note that some references to hunters bred or bought for the family in the gentlemen's era of the early 20th Century are embedded in the personal scrapbooks of FRA Sr.

- File 1 Photographs of FRA, Jr. on mounts, ca. 1902-1920s. Primarily professional photographs. Includes FRA, Jr. as teenager on a family favorite "The Muggger" as well as on mounts owned by others (e.g. Bronson Winthrop) at club events
- File 2 Photographs of FRA, Jr. on mounts, ca. 1930-1960s. Primarily professional photographs of hunts, some snapshots. Some color
- File 3 Photographs of Joan E. Appleton on mounts, ca. 1930-1960s. Professional photos and snaps, primarily at the Farm. Includes one of her favorites, Royal Melody (bred from Irish Cottage Winthrop's stables?), as well as a marvelous view of JEA in the field, taking a stone fence
- File 4 Photographs of FRA, Jr. schooling hunters, ca. 1950s. Includes two of the favorite Irish-bred colts, Coastal Fox and Prince Judah

Box 55

- File 5 Photographs of Horses at Appleton Farms 1902 - 1950s. Primarily professional shots, with some snaps. Horse range from the great “The Mugger” (1902) to Bay State Juno and Silver Dancer, “heavy hunters” cross-bred with Percheron blood. Includes two shots of horses not from the Farm but out of which Appleton horses were bred. Includes burros. [For more photos of AF horses see Files 6 and 8 below; see also albums]
- File 6 Photographs of Appleton Horses in Show Events, ca. 1950s-70s. Include Juno and Silver Prince, most with other riders, one with JEA up.
- File 7 Photographs of Unidentified horses and riders, ca. 1960s-70s. Presumed to be Appleton related.
- File 8 Snapshots of Appleton Farms horses, ca. 1955-80. Primarily taken by JEA (possibly some by FRA, Jr. who had an early interest in photography after the war years). Depict horses and burros at Farm, in pastures (and a few in stables) at various seasons over various decades. Few are identified. See also the later photo albums for more of same.
- File 9 Misc. printed matter and forms from various breed registries.
- File 10 Stud book labels. Three unused red morocco leather stud book labels from Appleton Farms, ca. 1920s-50s?
- File 11 Correspondence, 1968-69. Two pieces of correspondence from JEA to FRA re: training horses
- File 12 Architectural Drawings for a Small and a Large Jumping Corral at Appleton Farms (1924 plans redrawn in 1934, architect unidentified)
- File 13 Misc.. notes by FRA Jr. re: schooling jumps, ca. 1950s-60s. Probably for a variety of local events at both Myopia and Appleton Farms.
- File 14 Misc.. notes, misc. clippings and ephemera on jumping, compiled by FRA Jr. ca. 1930s-60s
- File 15 MSS. notes and miscellaneous correspondence of FRA Jr. re: horses hunted at Ipswich, NY and abroad, ca. 1905-1940s
- File 16 Misc. notes and miscellaneous correspondence of FRA Jr. re: horses at the Farm. Includes a list of horses and their foals dated 1971. From notes such as these, embedded in a number of files and scrapbooks, one could eventually compile a fairly comprehensive list of the Appleton horses and their pedigrees

Box 55

- File 17 Misc. matter on breeding management/work at Farm. File is comprised of 1) blank shoeing records 2) notes on feeding schedule for animals
- File 18 Notes and resources on horse care and health. Includes clippings, advertisements, pamphlets and printed matter and a manuscript paper
- File 19 Horse pedigrees (see also individual horse files below). Various registration forms, pedigrees and misc. related material for horses bred or purchased for Appleton Farms
- File 20 Correspondence FRA Sr. to FRA Jr. with pedigree of “The Mugger” (ca. 1902-5). The Mugger was foaled in 1897
- File 21 Day book or journal kept by JEA on the hunters “St. Pride” in 1936 and “Royal Melody” in 1937
- File 22 Pedigree or Stud List of “Coastal Fox”, ca. 1950
- File 23 Correspondence and printed pedigrees re: breeding FRA Sr.’s mare “Diana” ca. 1910.
NOTE: There is a painting of “Diana” in the artifact collection
- File 24 Classified advertisements compiled by JEA re: possible purchase of horses for Appleton Farms, ca. 1950s-60s
- File 25 Correspondence and advertisements re: sale of horses owned and/or bred at Appleton Farms ca. 1950s-60s, (this is heyday of Mrs. Appleton’s breeding activities). Primarily from the breeders and riders magazine Green Mountain Horse Association
- File 26 Publication, Green Mountain Horse Association. Random issues, 1958-72. Many include advertisements re: sale of horses owned and/or bred at Appleton Farms. See file above
- File 27 Correspondence re: buying selling horses from Appleton Farms. Letters from potential sellers and buyers to Mrs. A and a few replies. Include some charming letters from young riders enamored of a particular mount
- File 28 Bills and expenses re: showing and selling horses at Farm, ca. 1950s
- File 29 Stud lists, expenses, correspondence and misc. materials re: showing and selling the hunter Silver Prince
- File 30 Re: Dragon Prince (born May, 1956; Mrs. A bred this colt out of her Percheron mare Bay State Lensop and the Irish thoroughbred Silver Prince imported in 1954 to produce a heavy hunter). The file consists of 1) a letter from Dragon's new owner in 1963 and 2) Magazine cover featuring mother and new born son, The Farm Bureau in Massachusetts (Nov., 1956)

Box 55

- File 31 Misc. correspondence, bills, etc. re: schooling and showing Silver Dragon (some of these may refer to Dragon Prince as well?), ca. 1958-9
- File 32 Re: Silver Dancer, (born May, 1958; this colt was also out of the Percheron mare Bay State Lensop and the Irish thoroughbred Silver Prince). The file consists of 1) letter from Dragon's new owner in 1968 who is absolutely delighted with him, both his manners and his abilities in the field (apparently he was the most admired horse in their set) and 2) Magazine article by FRA Jr. w/ photo re: the breeding of the colt
- File 33 Varied correspondence re: sale of Silver Dancer and Silver Prince, 1961
- File 34 Re: Breeding the Percherons, ca. 1950s. Various clippings, articles, correspondence, bills and ephemera re: JEA's breeding of the Percherons mares Lucy and Lensop with thoroughbred hunters to produce heavy hunters for the field and cross country events
- File 35 Publication, The Chronicle of the Horse. Random issues, 1941-70. See ads section for Appleton-related animals (either animals Mrs. A is interested in acquiring or ads for selling Appleton Farms animals)
- File 36 Printed matter re: horses in other hunting stables, 1927-30. File includes 2 items: 1) "The Battered Brigade", of Harry Worcester Smith and 2) Cliveden Stud, 1927
- File 37 Magazines and printed matter, compiled by FRA Jr. 1928-32. Includes random issues of publications such as Town and Country to Horse Show
- File 38 Programs and printed matter re: Liverpool events
- File 39 Programs and printed matter re: British equestrian events

Contents: Dog Breeding at Appleton Farms, with history of Barberrry Kennels, 1898-1970s

- Artifact 1 Scrapbook of FRA, Sr.
Includes the general school materials, programs and letters on the boys' progress at Groton School with a few items related to his daughters as well. Most significantly, the second half of the album is material related to the Barberrry Kennels, which were started by FRA Jr. and his brother CLA as young teens in 1898 with the gift of a young fox terrier from a family friend. Items include notes on their fledgling business, plans for their kennel buildings, letters to their father about dogs and dog shows, etc. drawings of dogs, and copies of a "magazine" the boys edited in 1898 called The Kennel Review.
- File 2 Diary. "Barberrry Kennel Note Book," kept by young FRA Jr. and CLA in 1897 to "tell about the Barberrry Kennel which was started with two dogs, Dandy and Mischief, both very well bred, May 1st 1897... and Trouble, another dog not as well bred." Very sweet diary that revels just how serious the boys were at this young age about their dog business. Uncle Jimmy at Waldingfield was a big help to them (his kennel workers took care of the Barberrry dogs when the boys went back to New York for the school year. When they returned in the summer, they brought the dogs back to Appleton Farms)
- File 3 Sample of artwork for Barberrry Kennels drawn by FRA Jr. Includes ads placed by the boys, auction list, photo of the small kennel, etc., 1897-98
- File 4 Pamphlet, The Kennel Review, Vol. I, Nos. 1-6. Miniature "magazine" edited by FRA Jr. and CLA as part of their Barberrry Kennel business, 1898
- File 5 Drawings and floor plans by FRA Jr. ca. 1899, in the early years establishing the Barberrry Kennels as a boy. Includes later correspondence registering the Barberrry name in 1917 and a letter from his father
- File 6 MSS. article, "The Barberrry Smooths" written by FRA Jr. in 1944, with addition in 1951, detailing the history of the Kennel, its establishment by the brothers through the generous gift of several smooth fox terrier dogs and bitches from a friend of the family Mr. Rutherford (a well-known Long Island breeder). They had a number of litters out of various dogs and showed, but with very limited success. The kennel lagged when the boys went off to Groton and soon most of their dogs except two pets were sold. The kennel was revived in 1936 by Joan Egleston Appleton. At first the couple raised Cairn terriers, but at the urging of Mrs. A who gifted her husband with a smooth fox terrier in 1939, Mr. A revived his interest in that breed and finally raised the champions he had hoped for as a boy!

- File 8 Misc. show catalog clippings re: Barberrry dogs, ca. 1938
- File 9 Dog show ribbons from Barberrry dogs, 1947-1960s
- File 10 Notebook with daily log of “Barberrry Kennels Vol. II” (1941) probably kept by Mrs. Appleton, who was the more experienced breeder of the couple and who seems to have been more actively involved in the daily care of the dogs
- File 11 Newspaper clippings re: Barberrry Kennels and dog breeding at Appleton Farms, 1960
- File 12 Photographs of Barberrry Kennel dogs, ca. 1945-60s. Black and white professional shots. Many with FRA Jr., particularly with the champion litter of 1947, including the champion Veracity. [See also File 21 in this same Box for “Photographs of Pet Dogs”]
- File 13 Series of photographs of an unidentified dog show, ca. 1940s, by professional photographer Percy T. Jones, NYC. Primarily Wire and smooth fox terriers in the ring, with two including Col. And Mrs. A showing their dogs. Possibly a Fox Terrier Club event, of which the Appletons were members and of which there are several small trophies in the artifact collection
- File 14 Magazine, The Fox Terrier, April 1944
- File 15 Handbill, re: Dog event hosted at Appleton Farms for the relief of French orphans, ca. 1940s?
- File 16 Misc. correspondence, bills and ephemera re: dog breeding at Appleton Farms, ca. 1950s-60s
- File 17 Pedigrees and certificates of registration for dogs at Appleton Farms (primarily pets not show dogs)
- File 18 Pedigree, correspondence and misc. printed matter re: the Samoyed “Tim O Shan” purchased by JEA about 1970 as a pet

Box 57

- File 19 Misc. documents, vaccine certificates, etc. for dogs at Appleton Farms, mostly 1970s
- File 20 MSS. by JEA re: stories about several dogs raised on the farm as pets. Probably 1960s.
- File 21 Photographs of Pet Dogs at Appleton Farms, from 1940s-70s. The early black and white group primarily are professional photos of Mrs. Appleton with her favorite dogs, especially a greyhound. The second group is a mix of snapshots, mostly color, of various dogs at the house, with Mr. and Mrs. Appleton, etc.
- File 22 Unused pedigree forms of various origins
- File 23 Printed matter and general information on dogs, breeding, products, etc.
- File 24 Similar to above, primarily clippings from magazines and journals re: general information on dogs, breeding, products, etc.
- File 25 Annual report, The American Fox Terrier Club, 1969 & 1971
1971 includes photo of FRA Jr. as senior officer of the club
- File 26 Catalog or program, 11th Specialty Show, The American Fox Terrier Club, May 16, 1858

Contents: Personal Correspondence of Joan E. Appleton, 1930s-80s

Note that embedded in the correspondence are references to the farm and JEA's activities there, particularly the horse breeding in the 1950s and 60s. Primarily these are personal family letters keeping in touch, talking about growing children, events in their lives, chatting notes, etc. It would be useful to complete a genealogy of JEA's immediate family so as to identify some of these nieces and nephews in context.

- File 1 Letter of Bronson Winthrop to JEA & FRA Jr., 1937
- File 2 Correspondence between JEA and FRA Jr. [1 of 2], ca. 1945-46
These are primarily letters from Paris, during JEA's stint with the American Red Cross at the end of WWII. These letters reveal both a close friendship between the couple, but also the growing independence of JEA (then in her mid-30s)
- File 3 Correspondence between JEA and FRA Jr. [2 of 2], ca. 1945-46
As above, these are primarily JEA's letters from Paris and telegrams to her from FRA in the States
- File 4 Correspondence of JEA re: handwriting analysis, ca. 1953+
- File 5 Correspondence to JEA from her brother John Forbes Egleston, during the war
- File 6 Correspondence to JEA from her mother Romola Wellesly
- File 7 Correspondence to JEA from her brother Keith Egleston
- File 8 Correspondence and letters of sympathy to JEA after death of her brother John, ca. 1966. Includes heartfelt letter from FRA Jr., as well as very personal letters from close friends and relatives, revealing the siblings very close relationship despite living an ocean away
- File 9 Personal Ephemera of John Maclean Forbes Egleston (1915-1966)
- File 10 Appraisal of the estate of Harold Patterson Maclean Egleston, 1959. Note that Appleton Rice & Perrin were the attorneys handling this estate of the uncle of JEA. FRA's nephew Francis A Wendell, a partner in the firm, seems to be the main participant

Contents: Day Books of Joan E. Appleton, 1968-85

These day books record the daily events at the farm, particularly related to pets and farm animals. Since Mrs. A took such an active role in the management of the farm and the breeding activities, there is information about the farm production and work embedded in these diaries; however the handwriting is rather difficult to read. These record less social activities than FRA Jr.'s diaries, which are more like appointment books. This set also reveals a bit more about Mrs. Appleton herself, occasionally referring to how she feels about something rather than simply recording the fact of an event.
