DELMORE JAMES CORMIER (1927-2005)

Delmore James Cormier bequeathed the land now known as Cormier Woods in Uxbridge, Massachusetts to The Trustees of Reservations in 2005. The property had been in Cormier's family for three generations, first purchased by his maternal grandfather Alexandrovich Kozloski (who changed his first name to Alexander) in 1925.

According to his Declaration of Intent for United States Naturalization, Alexander Kozloski was born 1 September 1884 in Sekeryncy, Russia, although he claimed to be of Polish descent. He entered the United States on 16 March 1913, crossing into the United States from Canada at International Falls. By 1921, Kozloski and his wife lived in Blackstone, Massachusetts. Kozloski was married to Eugenia Manasterski (later renamed Jennie Kozloski) who was born 15 May 1888 in Andrenwko, Russia, although she also identified as Polish. They had one daughter, Bertha, who was born on 6 August 1912 in Poland. Jennie Kozloski died on 6 May 1958 and Alexander Kozloski died on 24 August 1968.

The Kozloski family lived near the Cormier family, who were French-Canadian. In 1924, 30 year-old Joseph Anthony Theodore Cormier married Bertha Kozloski, who was 13 years old at the time. In 1925, her father Alexander Kozloski purchased the land now known as Cormier Woods for his daughter and her husband. The newly married couple had two children: Theodore Alexander Cormier, later likely nicknamed “Skip”, born 13 May 1925 in Uxbridge, Massachusetts and died 4 December 1991 in Pinellas, Florida and Delmore James Cormier (the focus of this collection), nicknamed “Jim”, born 13 February 1927 and died 26 November 2005.

Little is known about the whereabouts of Joseph Cormier after about 1930. Bertha raised her children in Uxbridge, sharing the home with her parents. Kozloski developed a garden on the property while the children attended the Wheeler School in Uxbridge. Theodore Alexander Cormier married and moved permanently to Florida during the early 1950s. Bertha later remarried Louis Phillip Foisy [d. 1987?] who worked for The Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company in Chicago and the couple moved to Illinois. Bertha died 6 January 1986 in Barrington, Illinois.

Delmore James Cormier graduated from Uxbridge High School on the honor roll in 1944. He graduated from Boston University with numerous honors in 1948. From 1952 to 1956, he served in the United States Air Force, returning to civilian life to pursue a career in retail sales and purchasing. Cormier had an apartment in New York City, New York; however, he spent almost every weekend at the property in Uxbridge, using it as his permanent address. In 1986, he retired there to Uxbridge take care of his land, property and gardens. He ran a catalog and internet hosiery business called “Stocking Style,” that provided a range of specialized products. He dabbled in antiques, buying and selling as the occasion presented itself. He developed an apiary on the property and sold honey to local customers. He also became active in town politics serving on the Finance Committee for 9 years and also as a member of the Growth Committee. He was an expert with zoning laws and assisted many Uxbridge residents. He died 26 November 2005, and bequeathed the family property to The Trustees of Reservations.
